

It's time to get your students on-line and on-air with

The 2009 Come Out Festival is riding the airwaves with ABC Local Radio South Australia and Riverland Youth Theatre – and you're invited to join us for the journey.

You are invited to join award-winning writer Sean Riley on August 7 2008 to learn about the art of radio plays in a FREE 2 hour professional development workshop. By coming along you will have the opportunity to involve your students in the exciting new project WIRELESS VOICES, the online writing and broadcasting of a new radio play for the 2009 Come Out Festival, 18 -30 May 2009.

How WIRELESS VOICES works:

Sean Riley will introduce this new project through a workshop program in schools in the Riverland region during Term 3 2008. With help from Riverland students he'll establish the basis for a new radio play.

Then your students can get involved by writing and submitting their version of what happens next, scene by scene, on a weekly basis during Terms 3 & 4 2008. Expand their world and watch as each scene gets posted online on the ABC website: <http://www.abc.net.au/riverland/features/radioplay/> (Active 7th August 2008)

Finally, from 18 – 30 May 2009 Wireless Voices will be on-air and broadcast daily for all the world to hear via ABC Local Radio South Australia.

This professional development session is FREE, the Term 3 Workshops are FREE and it's FREE for your students to write online!
